Dear Inder

RE: Proposed Tree Preservation Order at 36 Archers Rd, Southampton.

T1 Ash, Located in the rear garden, this tree is very unbalanced with the weight of the tree predominately over the neighbouring gardens.

The tree has been suppressed by the surrounding trees which have now been removed. There has been some crown lifting on your side in the past.

The tree forks at approximately 1.5m above ground level and has included bark around this junction, this is potentially weak and may cause problems or even failure of this junction as the tree matures.

In order to keep this tree it will require heavy and constant surgery that will be detrimental to the tree's health.

I would therefore recommend this tree is not covered by a tree preservation order as the long term future of this tree is uncertain.

Yours sincerely
