

COVID-19 and Safeguarding Training Courses

In light of the latest government advice, all safeguarding courses with Personnel Checks Ltd have been cancelled until further notice.

It is important that drivers due renewal should follow the process with the exception of safeguarding training. When you have received your DBS certificate and come to collect your licence, you should inform the Licensing Staff that you have not carried out your safeguarding training. We will make a note of this and issue your full licence at this time. When courses are re-started, you will be given a period of time to allow you to complete the training before we will consider suspending your licence.

New applicants must complete approved safeguarding training before being issued a licence and should monitor our providers websites for updates for when the courses will re-commence.
