VI REVOCATION

The Byelaws relating to employment of children and street trading by young persons made by the Local Authority on the twenty fourth day of November One thousand nine hundred and forty eight and confirmed by the Secretary of State on the tenth day of February One thousand nine hundred and forty nine, as amended by a byelaw made by the Local Authority on the thirtieth day of April One thousand nine hundred and fifty nine and confirmed by the Secretary of State on the first day of July One thousand nine hundred and fifty nine, are hereby revoked.

APPENDIX

The Education Acts 1944 and 1962 provide, inter alia, as follows:-

1. A child is of compulsory school age until he has attained the age of fifteen, or, in the case of a child who is a registered pupil at a special school, sixteen. (Section 35, Education Act 1944).
2. If a child attains the age of fifteen or sixteen, as the case may be, between the first day of September and the thirty first day of January, he ceases to be of compulsory school age at the end of the next spring term, and if he attains the appropriate age between the first day of February and the thirty first day of August he ceases to be of compulsory school age at the end of the summer term. (Section 9, Education Act 1962).
3. For the purposes of the foregoing, a child attains a given age on the day previous to his birthday.

The Children and Young Persons Act 1933, as amended by the Children and Young Persons Act 1963, provides, inter alia, as follows:-

4. A chorister taking part in a religious service or in a choir practice for a religious service shall not, whether he receives any reward or not, be deemed to be employed. (Section 30).
5. No child shall be employed to lift, carry or move anything so heavy as to be likely to cause injury to him. (Section 18(1)(f)).

6. If a person is employed in contravention of the provisions of Section 18 or Section 20 of the Act or of the provisions of any byelaw made thereunder, the employer and any person (other than the person employed) to whose act or default the contravention is attributable shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds, or in the case of a second or subsequent offence not exceeding fifty pounds. (Section 21).

7. A person under the age of eighteen years who engages in street trading in contravention of the provisions of Section 20 of the Act or of any byelaw made thereunder shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding ten pounds, or in the case of a second or subsequent offence not exceeding twenty pounds. (Section 21).

Note:(i) By virtue of Section 35(2) of the Children and Young Persons Act 1963, the restrictions on street trading imposed by Section 20(i) of the Children and Young Persons Act 1933 and byelaws made under Section 20(2) of that Act do not apply to persons employed at established open air markets, or in any other place where it is customary for a retail trade or business (within the meaning of the Shops Act 1950) to be carried on.

(ii) Section 35(3) of the Children and Young Persons Act 1963 prohibits a person under eighteen from engaging in or being employed in street trading on a Sunday except in those cases in which the place where the retail trade or business is carried on is treated as a shop and a shop in those circumstances would be permitted to keep open on a Sunday under Part IV of the Shops Act 1950.

The Education Act 1944 provides, inter alia, as follows:-

8. If it appears to the Local Education Authority that any child who is a registered pupil at a county school, voluntary school or special school is being employed in such manner as to be prejudicial to his health or otherwise to render him unfit to obtain the full benefit of the education provided for him, they may, by notice in writing served upon the employer, prohibit him from employing the child, or impose such restrictions upon his employment of the child as appear to them to be expedient in the interests of the child. (Section 59(1)).

9. The Local Education Authority may, by notice in writing served upon the parent or employer of any child who is a registered pupil at a county school, voluntary school or special school, require the parent or employer to provide the Authority, within such period as may be specified in the notice, with such information as appears to the Authority to be necessary for the purpose of enabling them to ascertain whether the child is being employed in such a manner as to render him unfit to obtain the full benefit of the education provided for him. (Section 59(2)).
